Aim of Event: The aim of the expert talk was to provide students with comprehensive insights into career opportunities in AI/ML and Generative AI, along with essential skills and strategies for building successful careers in these domains.

The expert talk commenced with presentations from two distinguished alumni: Mr. Devanshu Mahapatra, ML Engineer at JPT Co., Ltd, Japan, and Mr. Athul Nair, Associate Data Scientist at Data Science Wizard, Mumbai. They provided valuable insights into the AI/ML industry, covering essential topics such as starting a career in AI/ML, required skills and tools, future scope of Generative AI, and job opportunities abroad.

The speakers emphasized the importance of building a strong portfolio through relevant projects and highlighted the significance of enhancing team-building and communication skills. They also stressed active participation in technical and non-technical events for holistic professional development. Through real-world examples and industry experiences, students gained practical understanding of career paths and current trends in artificial intelligence and machine learning.

The event concluded with an interactive query session where students actively engaged with the speakers, seeking clarification on career-related concerns and industry expectations. Students left the session with enhanced knowledge about AI/ML career opportunities and a clear roadmap for skill
